ABOUT

The right sound for every room.

BA Honeyman is a well-established singer and entertainer from Central Scotland, at home on a festival stage, in a wedding marquee or in the dining room of a fine hotel.

BA Honeyman has built his reputation across Central Scotland as a performer who reads a room and gives it exactly what it needs. His diary spans festivals, weddings, corporate events and private parties, alongside refined hotel and restaurant engagements where the music has to complement the setting, not compete with it.

What sets him apart is range. Using studio-quality backing tracks, he delivers the energy of a live band, the kind of sound that fills a dance floor, without the footprint or cost of a full line-up. When the occasion calls for it, he strips it back to voice and guitar for a warm, intimate set suited to ceremonies, drinks receptions and dinner service.

Behind the performance sits a deep practical knowledge of live sound. He arrives self-sufficient and runs his own professional audio, so couples, planners and venue managers get a polished, reliable show from first song to last.

BASED

Central Scotland

FORMAT

Solo: full-band or acoustic

OCCASIONS

Weddings, festivals, corporate, private parties, hotels & restaurants

THE PERFORMANCE

One performer, two sounds.

Full-band atmosphere

A big, layered live sound from one performer. Built for evening receptions, festivals and parties where the goal is a packed dance floor.

Stripped back

Voice and acoustic guitar, pitched to sit beneath conversation. Ideal for ceremonies, drinks receptions, dining and hotel lounges.

Compact footprint

Minimal space, quick set-up and a tidy stage, with professional sound handled in-house. Well suited to venues where room is at a premium.
